

NDIS & Disability Support

Disability Support You Can Rely On

At Senior Helpers, our Disability Support services are delivered with a person-centred approach. We believe that life should be equal for all. Our Support Workers are experienced in helping people with acquired, developing, or lifetime conditions, and are committed to making your life easier and more enjoyable each day. We'll take the time to understand your needs and who you are as an individual, in order to select a compatible Support Worker you can trust.

Personalised Care

Our Support Staff have specialised training in a number of conditions that affect the physical capacity of adults. We are equipped to provide you and your family with professional, considerate support for conditions like:

- Parkinson's Disease
- Multiple Sclerosis
- Brain injuries such as stroke or head injuries
- Spinal cord injuries and more

The Disability Support we offer is guided by, or meets, the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) Practice Standards. For more information on the Australian Government's NDIS, visit www.ndis.gov.au.

Built on a Foundation of Trust

Without the appropriate care, providing Disability Support can be overwhelming for the whole family. If your family is supporting you with care, it can be time-consuming and draining for everyone. Different conditions require different types of care, and at Senior Helpers, we support both you and your family by providing the appropriate level of care to help you remain as independent as possible.

Below are just some of the types of Disability Support we can provide to people over the age of 18:

-  Respite Care
-  Assistance with daily living
-  Light housekeeping
-  Meal planning and preparation
-  Transportation
-  Companionship
-  Personal Care
-  Life skills development
-  Social and community engagement
